

Mentor Profile:

Matthew Blyth

After studying agriculture at Kirkley Hall College Matthew began an apprenticeship on a progressive pedigree sheep and beef farm. He then moved onto a large commercial flock to finish his apprenticeship as an assistant shepherd. Matthew managed a flock of commercial sheep for five years before joining Didling Farms Ltd in West Sussex. Over the past 14 years he has progressed from shepherd to flock manager to now overseeing the entire Didling Farm business. His achievements include measuring and monitoring grass performance and monitoring livestock performances for improving farm profitability.
